Spitting Blood.
New York, April 28, 1847.

Dr. Townsend—I verify believe that your Sarsaparilla has been the means, through Providence, of saving my life. I have for several years had a bad cough. It became worse and worse. At last I raised large quantes of blood, had night sweats, and was greatly debilitated and reduced, and did not expect to live. I have only used your Sarsaparilla a short time, and there has a Pits: Fits: Fits: Dr. Townsend, not having tested his Sarseparalla in case of Fits, of course never recommended it, and was surprised to receive the following from an intelligent and respectable Farmer in Weschester county: Fordham, August 13, 1847.

Dr. Townsend: Dear Sir—I have a little grl seven years of age, who has been several years afflicted with Fits: we tried almost every thing for her, but without success; at last, although we could find no recommendation in our circulars for cases like hers, we thought, as she was in very delicate health, we would give her some of your Sarsaparalla, and are very glad we did, for it not Ron'r G. Beauty & Health. Cosmeties, chalk, and a variety of preparations generally in use, when applied to the face, very soon spoil it of its beauty. They close the pores of the skin, and check the circulation, which when nature is not thwarted by disease or powder, or the skin inflamed by the alkalies used in a saps, beautines its own production in the "human face Divine," as well as in the garden of rich and delicately tinted and variegated flowers. A free, active and healthy cirk culation of the fluids of the coursing of the pure, rich blood to the extremities, is that which paints the countenance in the most exquisite beauty. It is that which imparts the indescribable shades and flashes of loveliness that all admire, but none can describe. This beauty is the offspring of nature—not of poeder or soap. If there is not a free and healthy circulation, there is no beauty. If the lady is fair as driven snow, if she paint and use cosmetics, and the blood it shiek, cold and impure, she is not beautiful. If she be brown or yellow, and there is pure and active blood, it gives a rich bloom to the checks, and a brilliancy to the eyes that is fascinating. CHEAP BEEF, FOR CASH! In the SENATE, Mr. Gilmer offered a resolution providing for the taking of depositions in the contested election from Orange.

In the House, Mr. Steele, of Richmond, presented the following resolutions against the constitutionality of the Wilmot Proviso:

Resolved, That the territories of the United States belong to the several States composing this Union, and are held by them as their joint and common property.

Resolved, That Congress, as joint agent and representative of the States of this Union, has no right to make any law, or do any act whatever, that shall directly, or by its effects, make any discrimination between the States of this Union, by which any of them shall be aeprived of its full and equal right in any territory of the United States, acquired or which may hereafter be acquired.

Resolved, That the enactment of any law which should directly, or by its effects, deprive the citizens of any of the States from emigrating with their property into any of the discrimination, and would, therefore, be a violation of the Constitution, and the rights of the States from which such citizens emigrated, and in derogation of that perfect equality pate negro slave Sam. VALUABLE LANDS

FOR SALE. I WILL sell 220 Acres of very good Farm Lands on the Cape Fear River, adjoining the Walker Bluff Lands, known as the Brown Place. The Dwelling is quite a good log house, but in a most beautiful young oak grove; the Out-houses are very good. There are about 3000 turpentine boxes on it, which were cut last winter. Some red oak hogshead staves can be got on it, and a good deal short leaf ton timber. There is enough of this Plantation under cultivation to produce from 3 to 400 bushels corn, up and low lands together. A very fine field could be cleared on it, of oak, hickory and dogwood land,-besides, there is a swamp of some ten acres of as rich lands as can be found anywhere, though subject to overflow from the river. This place is more highly recommendable on account of its healthfullness, the Dwelling having been used for many years as a Summer residence; and I believe there never has been any sickness whatever on it. THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

Our readers have by this time had an opportunity of perusing the late and last message of Gov. Graham. It may be expected that we, in common with our cotemporaries, should say what we think of this document. Well, then, we would simply remark, that Gov. Graham, according to our understanding, very clearly proves that the State is deeply embarrassed in her financial affairs, and he thinks it is proper that the Legislature should adopt some method to relieve the State from her present unfortunate situation, by the issue of State bonds or otherwise. The message recommends a liberal system of Internal Improvements by the State; and in consideration that the State is now sole owner of the Ral- ance in the Northern prints, and it has caused eigh and Gaston Rail Road, he urges the con- no small amount of stir with the Whig party struction of a Road from Raleigh to Charlotte, at the North. We publish the letter as matsee Gov. Graham recommend this measure so had as soon see the North placed in that sitthat the State is now the owner of the Gaston | er prefer it. We copy the letter from the Bal-Road at a much larger price than the State timore Sun of the 1st instant:could have obtained it for. He doubtless feels sore about the matter, and with a view of getting the State out of the unfortunate position in which he has placed her, he recommends dent. I hasten to inform you that he has thrown the building of the Road from Raleigh to Chartion; and amongst all his urgent appeals for completed." We fully agree with the message in this latter particular, and we would respectfully make the inquiry, how it is that the scabbard." it has so happened that another great interest of the State has been so wantonly lost sight of? North Carolina is interested in two Rail the other has paid, regularly, the interest, and, also, some of the principal; and the State is still bound for her to the amount of her indebtedness. The latter Road, Gov. Graham, it the slave States on the Free Soil question. seems, desires to convey the impression, is of but little consideration to the State. Now, we think, and we believe we are not alone in so thinking, that if the State is disposed to do anything for Rail Roads, a helping hand should first be extended to that work in which the State is most deeply interested, and most likely to receive benefit from, and place the same in such a situation as may, in all human probability, eventually secure to the State the money which she has expended in the project. We allude to the Wilmington & Raleigh Rail Road, and the building of the Wilmington and Manchester Road. The Gaston Road is evidently so much money sunk to the State. Its credit can never be retrieved, unless it is at a very great expense, which must nearly, if not all, fall upon the State. With a little aid from the State, the Manchester Road can be easily built, and we are surprised to see that the Governor has entirely overlooked this important work. The State is more interested in the welfare of the Wilmington and Raleigh Road than she is in any other work within her dominion, and we think it is her duty to do something for the Road, if it can be made to appear that by so doing the State is to be benefited thereby. We, in principle, are opposed to the State's having anything to do with Rail Roads, and would only recommend it (where individual means are entirely unable to effect it,) as a remedy to check the emigration of our people to more improved States or to better lands; and then merely recommend aid by the State to individual enterprise. We think we have had experience enough in this matter to convince any intelligent person that such works are managed better by individuals than they are in the habit of being managed by States. But we are for saving all we can, and would, under the circumstances, be willing, as the State is a stockholder in the Wilmington and Raleigh Road to a large amount, and also its endorser, to see the State extend some aid to the Manchester Road. We believe that if the Manchester Road is completed, which we look upon as of the first importance, that the State will be enabled to realize, in a short time, a premium on its stock in the Wilmington and Raleigh Road; and then we should have no earthly objection to see a Road constructed from Goldsboro' to Raleigh, and from thence out West. Thus viewing the subject, we think with Gov. Graham, that " too much should not be attempted at once; but what" we have "attempted should be thoroughly completed." We do not feel disposed to go into a comparison of the results that may happen to the many improvements recommended the message again, but for the present we have no room to say more.

Pursuant to public notice, a meeting of the citizens of this town assembled at Masonic Hall on the evening of the 30th ult, to take into consideration certain matters and things concerning the Wilmington and Manchester Rail Road, whereupon James T. Miller, Esq., Magistrate of Police, was called to the Chair, and Mr. Richard Morris appointed Secretary. The following resolution, offered by Mr. Nutt, ted to petition the Legislature of the State of North Carolina, now in session, for the passage of an act authorizing the Commissioners of the town to subscribe to the capital stock on customers. of the Wilmington and Manchester Rail Road Company, a sum not exceeding $300,000, and relieving the present subscribers of the town from their subscriptions, and that the said Commissioners be authorized to make such arlevied by them on the real estate of the town exceeding 1 per cent., and not exceeding the ratio of 1 per cent. on other taxables. On motion, it was cate the passage of an act of subscription, on the part of the State, for three-fifths of the shares of the capital stock of the Wilmington and Manchester Rail Road Company, of that portion of the said Road lying in North Carolina; and also that they petition the passage of an act authorizing the construction of a Road from Raleigh to Goldsboro', in which the State shall take three-fifths of the capital stock.

Resolved, That the above Committee be appointed by the Commissioners of the Town. Resolved, That the expenses of said Committee to Raleigh be paid out of the funds of

of Life.-Off Cape Lookout, at half-past o'clock on Sunday morning, December the steamship Columbus came in colsion with the schr. Mission, of Edenton. N. C. The schooner was perceived by the watch on board the Columbus, and fearing a collision, her engine was stopped and reversed, but the schooner being on a wind, and not seeing the steamer, sailed direct under her bow; the wind having just hauled from southeast to northwest, and a heavy sea running at the time, the bow of the Columbus riding over the bulwarks of the schooner, sunk her almost instantly. The Mission was from Rum Key. 8 days, loaded with salt, for Edenton, N. C. Capt. John Cobb, and son 12 years old; T Doubty, mate; James Chatam and Joseph Brown, seamen, and P. M. Gordon, cook, al of and near Edenton, were lost. Wilson G by the Governor; many of them are, we think, Burgess, who was at the wheel, was saved by wise. We may at some future time speak of clinging to the bobstay of the ship. He states that there was but one man with him on deck at the time, who was forward, and must have been asleep, as they did not see the Columbus until they were under her bow, the Columbus having all her usual lights up at the time.-Both of the ship's small boats were lowered as soon as possible, to save one or two of the dission's crew who were seen after she went down, but the sea being so high they sunk before assistance could be rendered. Had the watch on board the schooner been discharging his duty, this melancholy accident could not possibly have occurred.

RED TERRITORY.

A correspondent of the New Orleans Delta. writing from Mexico on the 31st of October. writes thus :-"We hear a great deal of talk here about the lately discovered gold mines of California. Every new arrival from that land of promise confirms the previous intelligence of their immense value. At first, we set down much to the natural exaggeration of a gold fever; and with many grains of allowance; but a great number of private letters have lately arrived to the hands of English and other merchants, which leave no longer ground for doubt. The the most flattering character. I have read a translation of the leading editorial in Spanish the substance of which is as follows :- A few months ago, it says, we were in the habit of triumphs-if he stands speaking of the agricultural and commercial resources of California as the spring of its greatest wealth; and although to-day they are world, Agriculture constitutes a very small absorbed in the labor of the mines. Some time last Spring, Messrs. Marshall and Bennett, when opening a ditch to make some work in a mill which they had built on a bend of found it to be pure. Immediately this began to attract the attention of the neighbors. They soon discovered gold in such quantities towards the middle of the river, and also some distance above the mill, that several persons who had before given but little credit to rumors, abandoned their homes and went to work in the caution, that Leap Year, with all its privile-mines. In a few weeks almost all the population turned out to gather gold. The result was, that in less than four months a total revolution was effected in the prospects and fate children of fifteen and eighteen, but to young of Upper California. Formerly, capital was found in the hands of a few persons engaged in commercial and other speculations; but now, labor prevails over capital, and the laborers have in their hands the great mass of the wealth of the country. There are about 4000 whites, and a few Indians, who have engaged in the labor of the mines. The city of San Francisco, which then contained a population of two thousand souls, is entirely deserted-only twelve or fifteen persons remaining there. In a part of the mine called the dry excavation,' no other instrument is need ed than a strong butcher's knife to dig the gold from the rocks. In other places, as in Georgia and North Carolina, the machinery is very simple for collecting and separating it. The greatest number, however, use nothing but ar Indian basket, in which they place the mud and shake it until the gold settles down to the bottom, and the dirt passes out through the sides in the form of muddy water. As to the wealth of the mine, says the writer, if we were to believe the half of what is said, it would be considered in other regions as the story of Sinbad the Sailor; or the history of Alladin's lamp, which only requires its possessor to wish a thing to see the desire satisfied. Many persons have collected in one day, in gold of the purest kind, from three hundred THE RECEPTION OF THE MEXICAN to eight hundred dollars; and for many days together, at from seventy-five to one hundred

They will have a war cry, too-one that has become as famous in political warfare as was the Deus in Vult of the crusaders in the wars of Palestine, but of a very different signification. "To the victors belong the spoils!" will be the shibboleth of the White House. That fortress will be occupied by the hero of many battle fields-as brave and determined a man as ever defied a foe-a general whose boast it is that he "never surrenders."-Let him look to his laurels! On the plateau of Buena Vista, with odds of five to one against him, he came off conqueror; but the besiegers of the White House will be an hundred times more numerous, and a thousand times more persevering than the legions of Santa Anna. Tradition informs us that a brave war captain, who, like Gen. Taylor, had never surrendered in the field, was at last devoured by rats. Bipeds as voracious as rats, the starvelings of a long series of minorities, are about to run in upon the hero of Buena Vista. If he danies and beats them off-if he maintains that independence of action in the actual presence of the foe which he promised in advance, higher honors than ever crowned a warrior will be due to him. But we scarcely hope for such a result. To withstand the influences that will be brought to bear upon him, he must be more or less than mortal man. Gen. Harrison was killed by the mere fatigue and harrassment of endeavoring to discriminate among the hungry multitude which constantly surrounded him. What, then, must be the fate of him who undertakes to resist and beat back formality, and every one else with ease and
